Be part of it

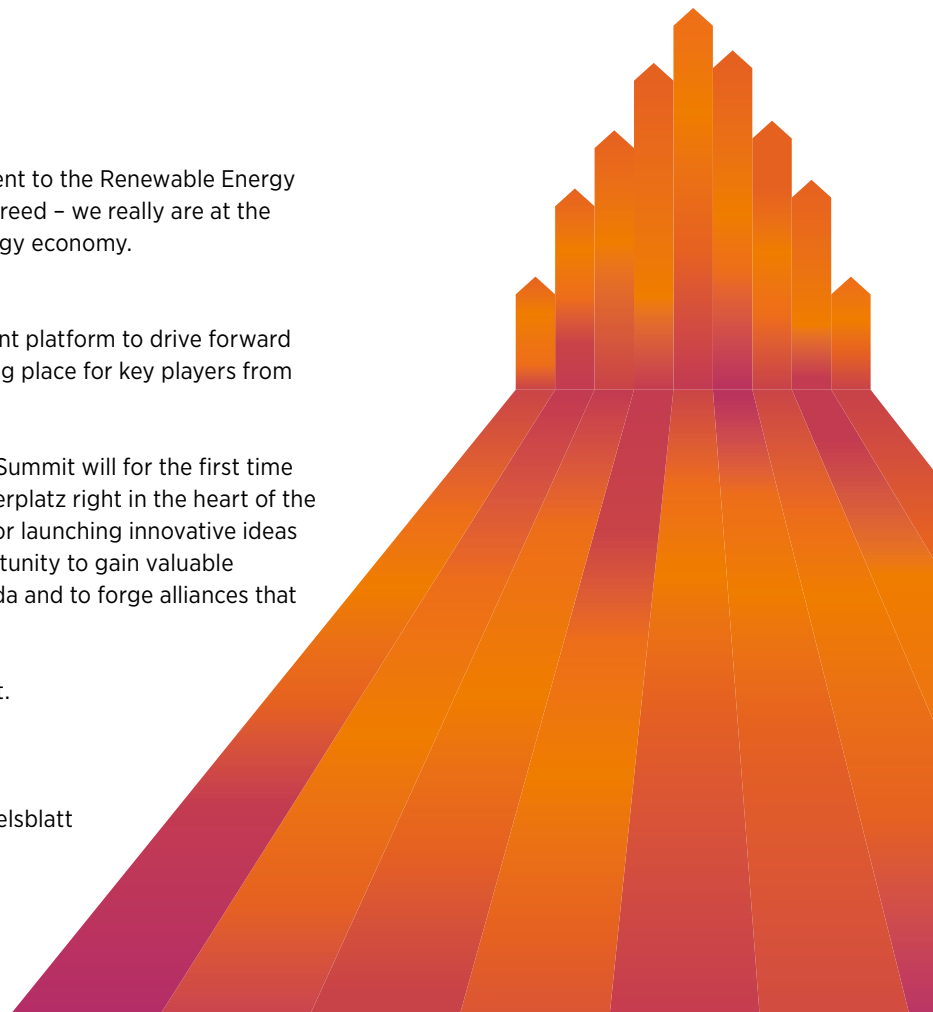

The withdrawal from coal is done and dusted, the amendment to the Renewable Energy Act is on its way and the EU hydrogen strategy has been agreed – we really are at the dawning of a new renewable, decentralized and digital energy economy. Now it is time for action.

The Handelsblatt Energy Summit will provide an independent platform to drive forward the transformation that this sector needs. It will be a meeting place for key players from the world of politics, energy, business and start-ups.

And to emphasize this awakening, the forthcoming Energy Summit will for the first time be held at the Berlin Congress Centre – located on Alexanderplatz right in the heart of the city the bcc with its futuristic cupola is the perfect setting for launching innovative ideas and taking a fresh perspective. Make the most of this opportunity to gain valuable inspiration and background information for your 2021 agenda and to forge alliances that will help future-proof your business in these difficult times.

Be part of the industry's most important, must-attend event.
I look forward to seeing you.

Klaus Stratmann, Deputy Head of the Berlin Office, Handelsblatt
